

A SMALL HISTORY ABOUT OUR LOGDE

Ara Ambigua Lodge was born in June 1999. At the start the name was “El Tucano “, but for better recommendation we decided to change the name because it was the same commercial activity and zone more near to the Hotel “El Tucano “ .

We search for so many names and finally we decided to put Ara Ambigua in honor of the beautiful bird of the zone, because they are in danger of extinction.
The name of the Lapa Verde or Green macaw.

My family is from Costa Rica, eradicated in sarapiquí and we wanted to establish in this zone, so finally we bought or purchase this farm where actually the Lodge is locate.

We passed many night contemplating and admiring the beauty of the sky full of wonderful stars the silence of the darkness and the different sounds of the nature and contemplated the small paradise that God had given us.

That was how the idea began with this project so we can share with many people our natural riches.

Today Ara Ambigua Lodge can be proud of its hospitality, human warmth and its delicious food.

We are still working very hard in the family so that our guest can feel at home.
